We believe that to offer a truly effective support service, our customers should see us as an extension of their own project team. Our customers know that they can trust us to manage all areas of their project as if it were our own, giving them peace of mind that their operations are being run as efficiently as possible.

Our scope of services includes:

- Tender stage assistance
- Support statutory service applications
- Project coordination
- Construction stage supervision
- Cost management
- Project completion

Here at Vitec our engineers' spectrum of experience in consultancy and contracting is a real asset, one which lends itself to litigation and dispute resolution. In our opinion litigation is not always necessary and our past experience proves that our method of resolving disagreements frequently delivers the desired outcome; we are able to view issues from 'both sides of the fence' and work proactively with our clients. It is this approach, along with our proven track record, that ensures our customers return time and time again.
